■ Summary of the exhibition

The need for knit products is expanding in the apparel market. Functional material, such as highly stretchable and/or difficult-to-sew materials are being used not only for sportswear and working wear, but also for everyday clothes. PEGASUS would like to propose a wide range of solutions, including deskilling, to ensure uniformity of production and beautifully finished products.

PEGASUS' first Electronically Integrated Direct Drive Sewing Machine will be exhibited, which features an integrated direct drive motor, controller box and operation panel.

The CISMA 2021 will finally be held after the prior postponement. We hope that the CISMA 2021 will satisfy every user and/or customer.

* Please note that exhibits are subject to change without prior notice depending on the circumstances beyond our control.
